National Seminar 2017

18th National Seminar

BEYOND THE R2: ANALYTICS, AN ALTRUIST TO INFORMATION SECURITY OR RATHER AN ANTAGONIST?

National Seminar at SCIT organized by the Placement Committee, for the past 17 years has been an inimitable platform to critically assess the State of IT and related industries, from multitude of dimensions. Over the period of time, National Seminar has become the platform where the best of the IT minds meet, understand and analyze the dynamics of the IT industry for the future.

With the dominance of Data Analytics and Information Security in a myriad of domains over the years, National Seminar 2017 aimed to delve into whether a coalition between the two will take the form of tomorrow's Guardian Angel or rather be a Threat Agent? Following questions were excerpts from the agenda for the panel discussion at the Seminar held in September.

- ❖ How will Analytics serve as a catalyst for Payment Card Industry Cyber Security?
- ❖ Bigger the Data, Bigger the Risk?
- ❖ Will the advancement of Analytics put Personally Identified Information at stake?
- ❖ Does Big Data compromise Data Rights and Ownership?
- ❖ Does this hour call for an ethical breed of Data Scientists?
- ❖ Will Retail Data Analytics pave the way for a smarter shopping experience but naive in Information Security?

National Seminar 2017 examined both sides to the fusion of Data Analytics and Information Security. The seminar threw light on data analytics proving to be an integral part of cybersecurity and the fight against online crime. The discussion also included views on whether the abundantly available data poses as a security risk. Thus, the seminar ventured the impact data analytics has on information security.
