ABOUT DATTANSH'23

Symbiosis Centre for Information Technology (SCIT) organizes an Annual Analytics Conclave every year, named DATTANSH, for all trending and up-coming technologies & applications in the world of Data Analytics. The fifth edition was held on 21st January, 2023, in the SIC Auditorium at SCIT.

Theme - DATA NOTITIA: See *What You Can't See

The amount of data being collected and processed has grown at an incredible rate in recent years. With the widespread adoption of digital technology and the Internet of Things (IoT), we are now able to generate and capture data at a scale and speed that was previously unimaginable. This explosion of data has created new opportunities for businesses and organizations to gain insights into their operations, customers, and markets, and to make more informed decisions based on data-driven analysis.

However, the sheer volume and complexity of this data also present significant challenges. Collecting, storing, and analysing large amounts of data requires sophisticated tools and technologies, as well as skilled data analysts and data scientists. Privacy and security concerns also arise when dealing with sensitive or personal data, and there are ethical and legal considerations that must be taken into account.

Despite these challenges, the potential benefits of data analysis are enormous. By leveraging data and analytics, businesses can optimize their operations, improve customer experience, and identify new opportunities for growth and innovation.

Governments and non-profit organizations can use data to better understand and address societal issues, from public health to environmental sustainability. As the data boom continues, we can expect to see even more innovation and transformation across a wide range of industries and sectors.
